Exodus Recovery Mental Health Walk-In Assessment Center

The North County Walk-in Assessment Center (WIAC) is a County of San Diego Mental Health contracted program designed to service adults, 18 and older, who are experiencing a mental health crisis or urgent need for mental health services. The goals of the program are to provide short-term mental health services to adults:

- who are in need of crisis intervention services
- who might otherwise present at emergency rooms for mental health services
- who are waiting to connect to ongoing treatment programs

Services will include:

- Assessment
- Crisis intervention
- Medication evaluation
- Trauma and substance abuse assessment and referrals
- Short-term case management
- Linkage to community resources

Mental health services will be provided by a multidisciplinary treatment team, and clients will be involved in their service planning and treatment. Access to services will not be denied on the basis of race, color, nationality, gender, religion, sexual orientation or disability.

The WIAC is funded through the Mental Health Service Act. Therefore, services will be targeted to individuals with Medi-Cal and those who are medically indigent.
